We're after our share of patronage from Wheeling and vicinity and hope to secure it by giving the best values in UP-TO-DATE Merchandise that have ever prevailed.

We study the fashions-know what's coming and prepare ourselves accordingly. Some stores, both in and out of this city, buy up the mistakes of manufacturers, or the relics of bygone days, and herald these as "unapproachable bargains."

Shun them. They're dear at any price. Good, honest merchandise is worth value the world over. That's the kind we sell. Our 1895 prices on new and stylish goods are the lowest on record.

Three Runaway Boys.

Last night two colored boys and a small white one were picked up here. The white boy turned out to be a son of Chief of Police Rankin, of Washington, Pa. They said they had only intended to come to Taylorstown, and had jumped on a freight train with that intention, but when it passed Taylorstown they could not get off, and had to come on here. Chief Rankin was notified and wired back that he would come after the boys at once.

Robbed of $50.

Yesterday complaint was made to the police that a woman who was a visitor at 115 Seventeenth street had robbed a male caller of $50. The man gave his name as Charles Jones, and said he was an oil man. Officer Allen arrested the woman, but the money could not be found, until Chief Bennett went out and made a thorough search. He found the money in the reservoir in a closet. The man refused to prosecute and the woman was released for want of evidence to prove her guilt.

Last night this interesting drama, given for the benefit of the G. A. R., had the largest house yet. The performances improve as they progress, and the welcome announcement was made last night that a special arrangement had been made by which the performance would be repeated Wednesday evening. No amateur performance seen in several seasons has made a more favorable impression on a Wheeling audience and the remaining two performances should draw large crowds.

MANY NEW AIR HOLES FORMED and the Ice is Now Very Unsafe for Use by Pedestrians-Some of the Foothardy Ones Disregard Warnings-Proparations for the Coming Break-up - A Famous Freeze-up Recalled by a liver Man.

The high temperature yesterday had very apparent effect on the frozen river yesterday. Almost innumerable new air holes were formed, some of them several hundred feet in length. The ice is now covered almost entirely with an average depth of an inch of water, and the 50-degree sun did more in the disintegrating way in ten hours yesterday than during the previous three days. The lee out in the channel is now so rotton that pedestrians who cross on the ice take fearful chances. Notwithstanding this state of affairs some of the Island people continue to some of the Island people continue to cross, and in one or two instances got a ducking for their pains. Several who started across hadn't the necessary courage to continue, and went back and paid bridge fare.

The river men were in a pleasant frame of mind yesterday, and it was predicted by Captain Mendel and Captain Crockard that two or three more days like yesterday would take away the element of danger that it was feared would attend the inevitable break-up. In fact, if the ice should pass out to-day it is not anticipated that the damage would be great around Wheeling at least.

During the day the Lexington, the Matamoras and Wheeling packet, laid up at the public landing, had steam up ready for emergencies. The whatboat crew also cut through the ice from the bow of their boat to the steel bridge, so that the ice near the shore would re-main and form a natural ice-breaker against the attacks of the ice when it passes out. The break-up is now ex-pected not later than Saturday of this week and it may come sooner.

pacted not later than Saturday of this week and it may come sooner.

A number of river men were sure that the present freeze-up occurred later in the winter than any other on the upper Ohio and that the river had never remained closed so late as now. Williom Dulty, an old steamboat engineer, however, is authority for the statement that in 1855 or 1856 the river was closed at this port until March 21. That of course eclipses the present performance on the part of the river.

The boats harbored at Bellaire below the big Baltimore & Ohio bridge piers are in pretty good shape and none of the tow boat people anticipate that there will be any great loss at the time the ice goes out.
